Dedication

Because as a teacher she is always cheerful and willing to help us, because she has rendered much service to the school, and because as a friend we like and admire her, we, the youthful Printers and Publishers of this 1930 Yampah, dedicate our book to Miss Helen K. Boyd.

Foreword

HEN life has turned our footsteps from these pleasant paths and has led us far into the fields of life's trials and responsibilities, the leaves of this Yampah with its graceful Spanish motif calling to mind the achievements and deeds of our Spanish predecessors in this region will remind us of our achievements and deeds in this year of 1930 in scholarship, athletics, and in social life.

May it bring back tender memories of high-school days and of our friends and teachers.

Commercial Course

Students of Garfield County High School planning to enter the business world may obtain a course exceptionally complete for one offered in a high school. They may take: Commercial Geography, Commercial Arithmetic, two years of Typewriting, Shorthand I, Bookkeeping, Office Practice combined with Advanced Shorthand, and Commercial Law.

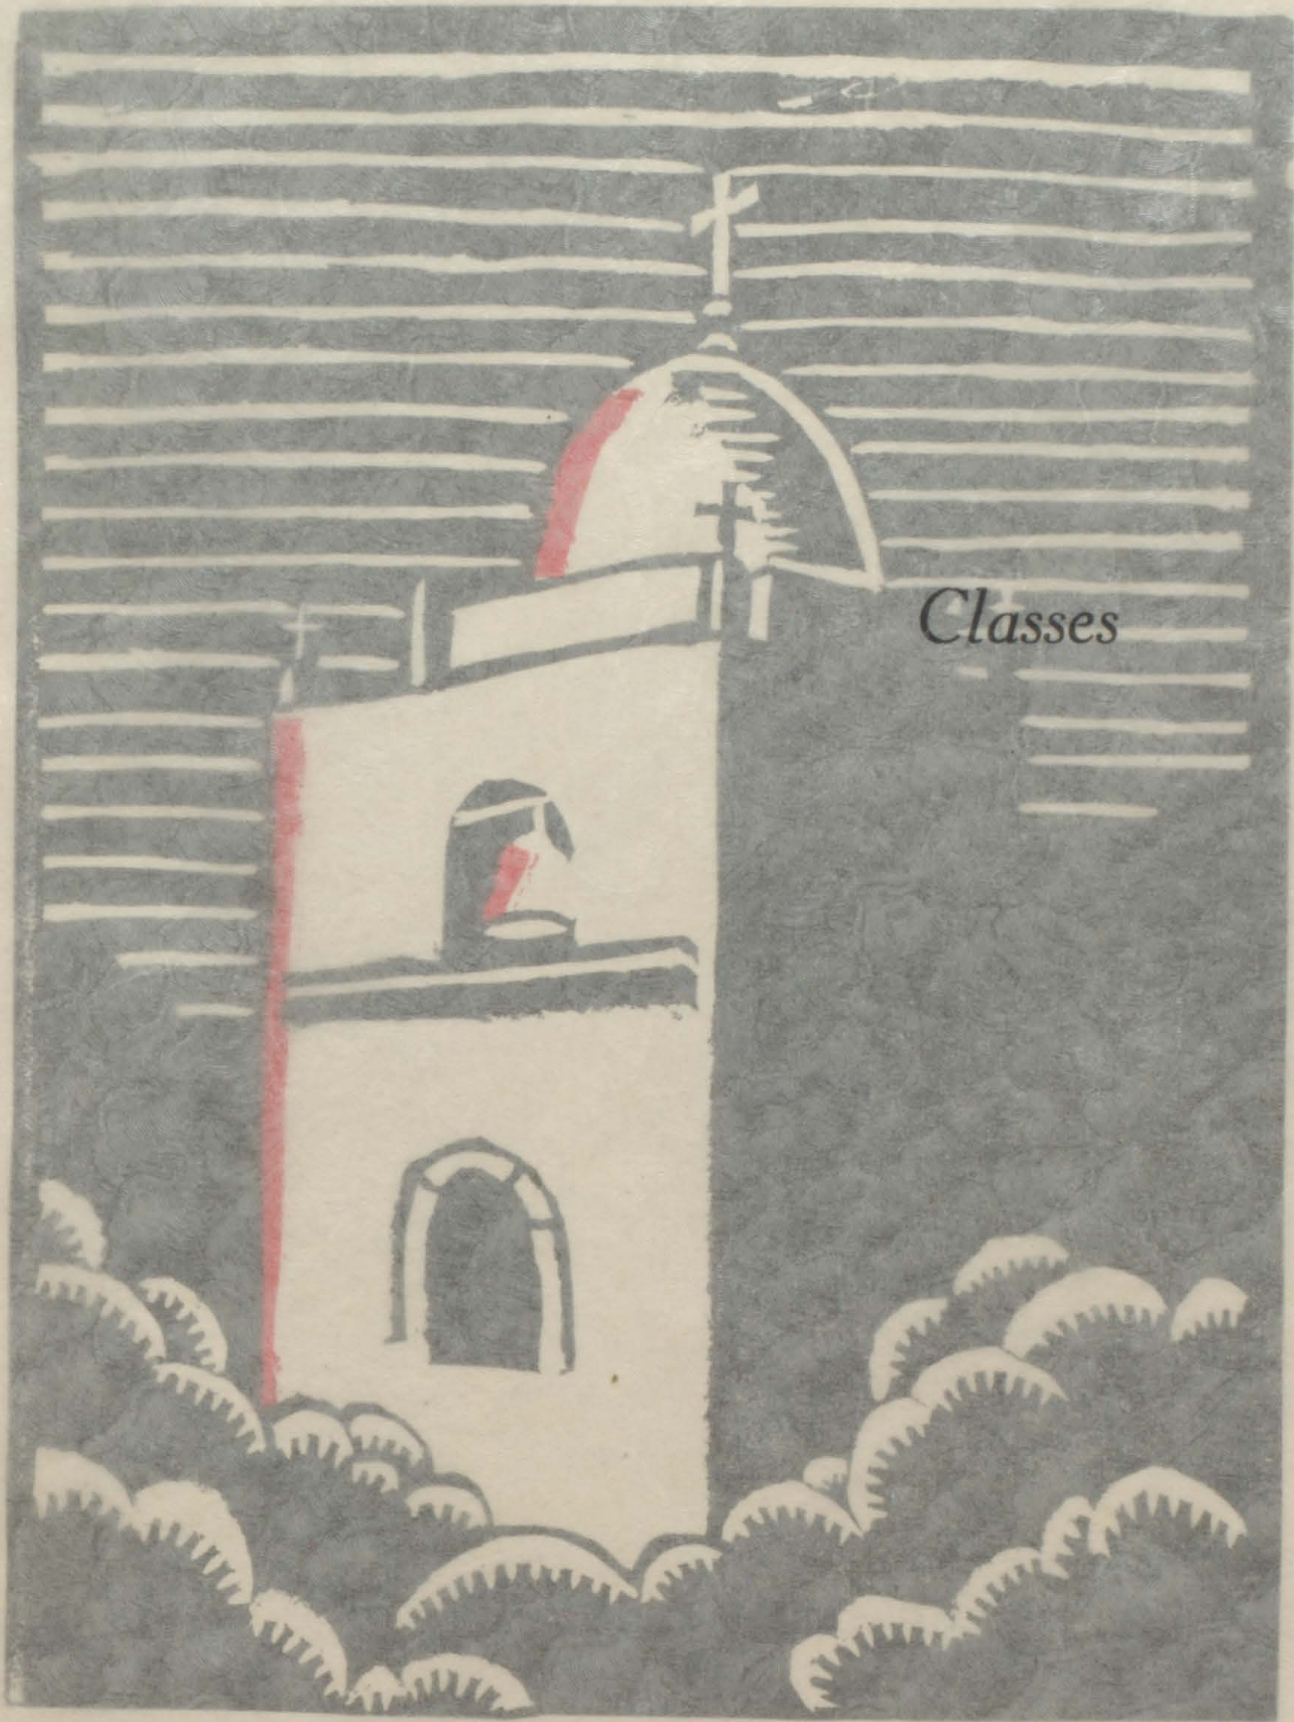

The very nature of the work which schools do demands that they be understood by the people if they are to succeed. There must be constant and unfailing sympathy between parents and teachers, each for the other. Without mutual respect, co-operation, and even friendship the thing that is most precious in education—the refined and uplift edspirit—there is danger of being lost. Let us therefore magnify the schools—teaching children to love them, leading parents to work closely with them, and inspiring citizens to regard them as the highest expression of democratic endeavor where by each child is to achieve a fair start in life.

Garfield County High School has been fortunate in having school boards that recognized the free public schools as the choicest gift to civilization. They have not been without vision and they have given freely of their time and energy that the schools might lay a right foundation for a better tomorrow.

Senior Class Prophecy

Ten years! How they have slipped by! It seems only yesterday that I was saying goodby to all the old friends and classmates at G. C. H. S. Oh, that those good old days could be lived over again! Such were my thoughts as I relaxed after a hard day's work at my office in the Bank of the Pacific, of San Francisco. As I sank lower in my chair, the shadows lengthened, the day was nearly over. Why not re-live those happy days, take a vacation, see the world--old friends? Suddenly my mind was made up. I would go--but where? Ten years is a long time, and the Class of '30 was no doubt scattered with the winds. Oh, to be sure, my secretary, Neva Johnson, would know, for she corresponds with most of our old classmates.

The next day I boarded the Pickwick Air Express for Los Angeles, where Jane Heberling was teaching English in the Belmont High School. She suggested that we visit Bertha Burdge, now head stenographer for the Munson Steamship Lines. Bertha happened to know that the steamer "Pacific" had just docked; so we went down to the pier, and much to our surprise and delight, found John Mitchell and Tena Vaira just completing a honeymoon tour around the world on it.

The next day I visited Hollywood and that Queen of Movieland, Letty Lythe, better known to you as Caroline Elder. With Letty was Austin Dever, the big butter and egg man from Chicago, who had just become her fifth husband. Keep it up Letty! Jo Heberling, now the Countess de Poogliachi, was sitting in the lobby of my hotel as I returned from the studio, and proudly introduced me to the Count, who looked as if he had been knocked out for the count of ten by love for Jo. Poor fellow!

I had heard that George Broughton was operating a string of race horses at Agua Caliente this season; so I boarded a plane for that famous resort. George volunteered to show me the sights, and the first place we visited bore a huge electric sign with the caption, "Mexico Murdock's Whoopee House." Regina, how could you? As a special act this evening, Hope's famous tap dancers were featured, composed of four G. C. H. S. girls, Clarice Hope, Daisy Wirth, Ora Howard and Dorothy Lake.

As I turned eastward the next day, whom should I meet in the plane but Mrs. Williams, nee Prine, who was returning home for a visit, having spent the last few years in Nicaragua as the wife of a famous mining engineer. At Phoenix we stopped off to enjoy a visit with Vera Cantrell, head nurse at the Infant's Hospital there. In Denver I spent a day visiting with Anthony Alexander, now district manager of a large chain store system, after a meteoric rise in the business world. Ellen Jackson and Catherine Tessadri were also in Denver, stenographers for the "Say it With Flowers Shoppe."

Back to Glenwood! Would I know anyone after all these years? As our air sedan taxied to a landing, a large bus bearing the name, Guadnola's, Inc., drove up and transferred us to the hotel. On investigating, I found Jimmy to be head of the largest transportation system in Western Colorado, headquarters in Glenwood. He was happily married to Aline Paine, and proud as a peacock over the recent arrival of a son and heir, James Jr. Harold Gambrel, golf professional at the new Yampah Country Club, helped me improve my game between chats. He certainly looked sporty, and when I asked whether or not he was married, he asked me if I remembered Margaret Donegan. I'll say I remembered her, but not as Mrs. Gambrel!

As I flew eastward to New York, I stopped over in Kansas City to hear Madam Zancanella the great prima donna, accompanied at the piano by Mariana Greear.

In Chicago, I had a pleasant visit with Gertrude Lillard and Dagmar Mitchell, co-owners of the largest beauty parlor in Illinois. They informed me that William Robichaud was Junior Vice-President of the Transcontinental Air Transport, with headquarters in Chicago, as well as its most famous pilot. However, I found him as modest and unassuming as ever.

Speeding on, I stopped at Detroit for a chat with Mrs. Van Smearcase, the society leader and wife of the famous aeroplane manufacturer and internationally known sportsman. She was better known to me in former times as Dotty Meier.

Pauline Claudon was doing relief work for the Salvation Army in New York, and I found Eugene Conner pacing the streets with a private detective's badge on his coat.

Anna Bershenyi tried to sell me a Book of Knowledge, for which she is district agent, when I visited her at Philadelphia. Now, was that nice?

Then off to the sunny southland! When I arrived at Miama, I got in touch with the Chamber of Commerce, and found that Lucile Maxfield, the eminent authoress, had a winter home there. As I left the Chamber of Commerce Building, Helen Rigney was just entering. She insisted that I return and see her husband, the well-known realtor, with offices in the building. He was working on his latest project, Gellinger's Happy Home Sites. Somehow I found him very annoying to me. Perhaps it was because he was a Floridan and I a Californian. But that rasping, ringing voice of his! He was certainly furious about something! Ring--ring--, my, what a voice! Suddenly I came to. He was a telephone! And in my office at San Francisco! Had I been asleep? But there was that telephone insistently ringing at my elbow. Who could it be? A sleepy "hello" came from my lips. Then, "Oh, hello, dear. No, I didn't forget. Yes, I've been terribly busy this afternoon. Just finished an important conference. Yes, I'll be right home. Goodby." A bridge party with the storm and strife! Do all dreams end like this?

Spanish Gold

Class Poem

From sunny Spain long years ago,
Came conquerors brave and bold,
To blaze new trails in a wild land,
In search of life--and gold.

They travelled far from the wind-swept Gulf
To a land of blood-red crags,
Where the sun looks down on a rugged land,
And the wind through the pine tree lags.

They searched through the cliffs for the City of Gold,
Led by their chief Coronado,
But naught they found save the blood-red crags,
So they called it Colorado.

They found nothing of treasure in this strange land,
Nothing of riches and wealth.
But they did find the stars and clouds, and the wind
That creeps through the pines by stealth.

In this same land four years ago,
Our class, as explorers bold,
Embarked on the trail of High School Life
That leads to the City of Gold.

For four long years we have struggled on
Through the land where cliffs are books;
We have searched through the crags for riches and wealth.
We have searched through their crannies and nooks.

But after four years of searching in vain
For glittering treasures and gold,
We know that our search was indeed not in vain
As did the brave Spaniards of old.

We know that though schooling may not give us wealth,
It shows us the right side of life;
It shows us the stars that eternally shine
Through our lives above trouble and strife.

Lucile Maxfield

Senior Class Will

We, the Members of the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Thirty, realizing the uncertainty of graduation and the certainty of vacation, being sound in mind and in body, and wishing to make suitable and proper disposition of our natural gifts and material possessions, do hereby bequeath, of our own free will and accord, in this, our Last Will and Testament, the aforesaid natural gifts and material possessions to the following worthy members of Garfield County High School, to wit:

1. MARGARET DONEGAN leaves her inferiority complex to Helen Johnson.
2. CAROLINE ELDER bequeaths her parking space in front of the school to other girls' friends.
3. GERTRUDE LILLARD wills her love for dogs to Willis Parkison.
4. ANTHONY ALEXANDER leaves his permanent wave to his brother, Ernest-- just to keep it in the family, you know.
5. DOROTHY MEIER leaves her affinity for nitric acid hand lotion to the future chemistry students.
6. JO HEBERLING leaves "IT" to Glenda Gellinger.
7. BERTHA BURDGE bequeaths her ownership of Paul Henderson to Vernice Maxfield, with directions included.
8. HAROLD GAMBREL leaves home for the bakery business.
9. JANE HEBERLING wills her tomboy tendencies to Ruby Dawson.
10. DAGMAR MITCHELL bequeaths her prowess as a typist to Laurence Pratt, who needs all she can spare.
11. LUCILE MAXFIELD leaves all her souvenirs of Palmer Method Penmanship to be placed with the rest of the trophies in the show case.
12. JAMES GUADNOLA wills his slicker to the Junior Class for general charity purposes.
13. VERA CANTRELL bequeaths her hope chest to the G. C. H. S. museum.
14. TENA VAIRA leaves her baby talk to Eugene Trechter.
15. NEVA JOHNSON wills her manly voice to Harold Miller.
16. JACK MITCHELL leaves his emulation of Harold Teen to Bert Gregori.
17. REGINA MURDOCK bequeaths her giggling ability to Cecel Taylor.
18. ALINE PAINE and ANGELINA ZANCANELLA leave a huge stack of Love Story Magazines to the school library.
19. AUSTIN DEVER wills his high-pressure talking ability to Rose Holland.
20. CLARICE HOPE leaves her tap dancing ability to William Claudon.
21. ORA HOWARD bequeaths the care of Norman Dow to Helen Rowe.
22. ANNA BERSHENYI leaves her place in the bus to Clayton Docker.
23. EUGENE CONNER leaves a foot or so of height to any sawed-off Freshman who needs it. Now don't all speak at once.

24. MARIANA GREEAR bequeaths to Jane Reynolds her favorite book, "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."
25. DAISY WIRTH wishes that her winning Irish smile be left to "Dutch" Walsh.
26. PAULINE CLAUDON leaves her roller skates to Durwood Stapp, hoping that he will make better use of them than she did.
27. GEORGE BROUGHTON wills his balloon trousers to the aviator in need of a parachute.
28. DOROTHY LAKE leaves her punctuality to Annie Zancanella.
29. MILDRED PRINE leaves her ability to pick basketballs out of the air to Margaret Thome.
30. HELEN RIGNEY leaves three shoe boxes full of notes to Bernard Gellinger.
31. WILLIAM ROBICHAUD leaves his membership in the Tri Epsom Salts Fraternity to Paul Henderson.
32. CATHERINE TESSADRI bequeaths her bold egotism to Dick Hadsell.
33. EDWIN ROBISON leaves his ability to collect money to the one who needs it most, namely, Mr. Moorhead.
34. ELLEN JACKSON wills her "wim, wigor, and witality" to Ernestina Alexander.
35. We leave our initials, wherever they may be found, to future G. C. H. S. students, hoping they will not follow the bad example we have set by carving said initials.
36. To twelve lucky members of the Class of '31, we leave our most sought-for and honored wall seats, with the hope that they will make good use of said seats by keeping up the spirit of G. C. H. S. as we have done.
37. We respectfully ask that Dale Baillie be by the court appointed executor of this, our Last Will and Testament, in token of his regard for us.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we hereunto set our hands and seal. Done at Glenwood Springs, Colorado, this twenty-third day of May, A. D. 1930.

Senior Class History

When crimson banners, flaming in the west,
Trail down the darkening course of the plain,
I dream of Coronado's gallant quest,
Seeker of gold from sunny Spain.

Back in the fall of 1926, it seems but yesterday, we started on our search for gold, but the gold we sought was not the gold that Coronado and his men were seeking. The gold we wanted to find was labelled "Knowledge."

Our first impression of High School, the land in which we were to seek for our gold, was far from pleasant, for the attacks and jibes of the vengeful Sophomores, gold seekers who had been exploring the land fully a year before we arrived, caused us untold misery. We selected as our leaders: Wanda Kenton, president; Jane Heberling, vice-president; and Harold Gambrel, treasurer. As our guide and helper we chose Mr. Walter Sharp. The trail was a rough one. We stumbled over rocks and boulders, among them a huge boulder called Algebra, named by some struggling passer-by long years before. One day after a long, hard journey we came in sight of a rambling mission, called Vacation. As we were very tired, we decided to lay aside the tools with which we had been digging and rest for three months.

After staying at the mission for that length of time we again gathered our tools together and proceeded on our way. Our new trail was a much rougher one than that over which we had previously traveled, but with the gallant new leaders: James Guadnola, president; Dorothy Meier, vice-president; Harold Gambrel again as treasurer; and our faithful guide, Mr. Sharp, we weathered many a storm, until again we stopped for repose at a mission similar to the one we had left nine months before.

When we set out upon our quest again, we found the trail more pleasant. We had passed over the rougher part of the journey, and now only a few stones loomed up as obstacles in our path. To guide us over the trail we selected Margaret Donegan, as president; William Robichaud, vice-president; Jane Heberling, secretary and treasurer. Our new guide was Miss Marjorie Munn, who steered us faithfully and well. As our trail was not so rough, we had more time for pleasure. As a means of entertainment to other seekers of gold, we gave a play, entitled "The Whole Town's Talking," which brought success and much admiration from other explorers. When we found that we were nearing another mission at which we would stop and visit, we gave a fiesta, which we called the Junior Promenade. After giving this delightful affair we decided to give a dinner as a farewell to the Seniors, the class that had troubled us so much when we first started our explorations. We called this the Junior Banquet. Soon we arrived at another mission, where we rested until we took up our work again in the fall.

When we renewed our explorations, we found that our search in this land of High School was rapidly nearing its end; so to lead us to the end of our trail, we chose again Margaret Donegan, president. Our selections for vice-president, secretary, and treasurer were: William Robichaud, Jane Heberling, and Edwin Robinson. Our guide was Miss Noonan, one most capable of directing the last few miles of our high-school life. As the play we had given before was so successful, we staged another play entitled "The Poor Nut," a comedy which met with a roaring success. As our explorations drew to a close, a group of explorers, following behind us on the trail by which we had come, gave us a farewell dinner.

Now our explorations are ended; our trail divides. Some of us will go on with our search for the golden knowledge; others are satisfied with the gold they have already found. When we are gone, we hope that the explorers who will keep on with their quest for gold after we have left this land of riches, will say--

"They left behind, traditions fine,
That dauntless class of old,
They deeded us a romance mine,
Of deeds of purest gold."

The Junior Class History

Early in the fall of 1927, a troop of adventurers, known as the class of '31, set forth to find the Magic Cave of Higher Learning. The expedition was a long one, four years, and the trails were rough; so the class of '31, decided to elect a leader. They chose Miss Eleanor Noonan. Her staff was Lucille Waldridge, president; Robert Brackney, vice-president; George Booze, secretary and treasurer.

Later as the class of '31 were proceeding, they came in contact with another band of adventurers, known as the class of '30, who were also seeking the Magic Cave of Higher Learning. Of course war was declared, and the class of '31 chose Irwin McDonald to be their councilor of war. They were defeated, because they did not know the tactics the enemies used. They put up a good fight, however. Later they found that they were to be initiated into the enemy's camp. The class of '31 thought it would be fatal, but they found out that the enemies were not half so bad as they thought.

The class of '31 took first place in the Annual Water Fete, with Ora Howard, then among their number, winning the Girl's Gold Medal. In football, the next sport of the year, Chester Watson, Bill Hubbard, Irwin McDonald, and Max Paine made the team. The class was represented in basket ball by Chester Watson, Bob Brackney, and Lucille Waldridge. The Leading Lady, Grace McDermott, in the operetta given last fall by the Girls' Chorus was from the Class of '31, as also were Betty Baird and Vernice Maxfield who were members of the cast.

Again after a brief rest of three months, the adventurers set forth, this time more enthusiastic than ever. They chose Walter V. Sharp as sponsor and as his staff Chester Watson, president

First row: Winslow Green; Kenneth Hutchings; Richard Lake; John Walsh; Vaughn Allen.
 Second row: Lawrence Pratt; Max Paine; William Schrupp; Bert Gregori; Paul Henderson.
 Third row: Robert Brackney; Eugene Trechter; William Hubbard; Chester Watson; Bernard Gellinger.

Kenneth Hutchings, secretary and treasurer. This time they were not to be caught unawares; so they elected Lucille Waldrige to represent them in the Council of War.

Again they battled with some enemies, better known as the Class of '32. The Class of '31; was well represented in athletics. Chester Watson made the football team; Vera Goodenburger and Bill Hubbard were sent to Gunnison to represent their class in the State Scholarship Contest. Thus ended a successful second year.

The adventurers then decided upon another three months as a rest period before going on the great journey. After this period ended, they elected Miss Mabel Peterrins as leader with the following assistants: Bernard Gellinger, president; Bill Hubbard, vice-president; Robert Brackney, secretary and treasurer; and Vera Goodenburger as representative to the Council. They then proceeded on the third year of their journey.

Soon came the selection of class rings a distinction to mark the Upper-classmen. The next important event of the year was the Annual Swimming Contest, in which the Class of '31 came out third. In sports the athletes of '31 again won much distinction. Vera Goodenburger was elected a member of the National Honor Society.

The Class Play, „Am I Intruding?” was a huge success, and supplied sufficient funds for the Annual Banquet in honor of the outgoing Seniors, who had reached the Magic Cave of Higher Learning and who were now going on other adventures. After the banquet the Junior class gave an elaborate and most enjoyable Promenade for everyone, as a farewell for three months during which the members of the band will prepare for bigger and better things for the last stage of their journey to the Magic Cave.

First Row-- Ernest Alexander, Durwood H. Stapp, William Broughton, Willis Parkison, Jack Mayes, Harold Miller.

Second Row--Norman Dow, Carl Lake, Eugene Crowley, Dave Greear, William Lillard.

Third Row--Mr. Sharp, Sponsor, William Steele, Charles Weidenhammer, William Claudon.

The Sophomore Class History

After crossing the Eight Rivers of Knowledge, as Freshmen, the Class of '32 entered a stage of learning.

Miss Peterreins was chosen as their first sponsor, assisted by the following other officers: Willis Parkison, president; Thelma Taft, vice-president; Helen Robertson, secretary; and Norman Dow, treasurer.

In their Freshman year they were well represented in athletics. The girls found proficient for basketball were Helen Johnson and Betty Tanner; the boys, William Claudon and Norman Dow.

The annual Freshman-Sophomore struggle was won by the Sophomores by only a small margin. After a picnic and party, they retired with a promise to return the next year as lordly Sophomores,

After three months of vacation, the group returned as Sophomores, taking their place as third in the long caravan of conquerors:

Their choice of sponsor was Mr. Sharp. As the other officers they chose, Ernest Alexander, president; Katherine Deckrow, vice-president; and Ruth Gould, secretary and treasurer

As they proceeded upon their long journey, recreation as well as work was found, the greatest time of all being the Freshman-Sophomore Week. The battle arranged gave the Sophomores victory. When the time came for initiation, the Sophomores vowed to give the Freshmen a hard seige, which it was thought would bring grief, but it proved to be only fun.

First Row-- Juanita Fagan, Mary Wirth, Helen Robertson, Jane Reynolds, Helen Johnson, Inez Redwood. Second Row-- Ernestina Alexander, Rose Trout, Elsie Heisler, Rose Holland, Betty Tanner. Third Row-- Ruth Could, Thelma Taft, Thern kyner, Elma Campbe I, Cecil Taylor.

The whole train, Seniors, Jun'ors, Sophomores, and Freshmen, had a general election of officers for the entire group. Durwood H. Stapp, '32, as assistant Cheer Leader proved to be a great help and could always be found in time. Norman Dow was elected to the General Council.

The Sophomores were well represented in athletics and other school activities, thus gaining a popular place in G. C. H. S. In football the Sophomores were represented by Carl Lake, Durwood Stapp, Dave Greear, and Norman Dow. They all received letters for the season as football players.

Basketball proved to be the favorite sport. Those found proficient were: Inez Redwood, Helen Johnson, Elma Campbell, Betty Tanner, Jane Reynolds, Mary Wirth, Ernestina Alexander, and Elsie Heisler. Betty Tanner, Helen Johnson, Mary Wirth, and Elsie Heisler were found to be good enough for many conference games, Helen receiving her letter at the end of the season. The boys who found places on the basketball squad were Raymond Hope, William Claudon, and Norman Dow. Norman received a first-team suit and played in many of the conference games.

A picnic was held the last week in May and was greatly enjoyed.

The Class of '32 feel that they can achieve more and can make a still better record for the next year and so have again retired, making plans to accomplish that task.

Seated-- Veva Lytle, Viola Dore, Lucille Porter, Lula Watson, Esther Guadnola, Nadeene Hemphill.
 Second row-- Miss Conkling, Sponsor, Isobel Harris, Anna Bianco, Laura Grems, Ruth Burch, Lucile Blowers, Jean MacDonald, Margaret Thome.

Freshman Class History

Having heard for the past eight years of the fabulous wealth of the House of Knowledge, on August 30th we set sail on the wide sea with that as our destination. We were conquerors setting out on a conquest of higher learning.

Realizing the dangers we were encountering, we proceeded with high spirits, but not for long. For shortly before we gained the shore, pirates rushed upon us with pranks and jokes. Their forces were many and large. We yielded to them as most beginners do. We decided we needed someone to head our band and look into our affairs; so we chose Miss Conkling as Sponsor; Bill Mangnall, president; Harold Tanner, vice-president; Esther Guadnola, secretary; and Matt Carrol, treasurer.

As our band proceeded shoreward, we decided that we had to have a little recreation as well as work; so some time was spent in playing games, especially basketball. Two of our members, Lucille Porter and Bill Mangnall, showed up unusually well, each having had a chance to play in one of the big games during the season.

Two others of our companions, Robert Young, who appeared in a debate given for the Parent-Teachers Association and Valeska Riley, who gave a reading which won first place in the County Contest, won distinction for our band.

Seated--Rudolph Bershenyi, Frank Crowley, Frank Thome, Orville Cranor, Earle Nestell.

The whole group including Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen held a general election of officers. From the Freshman Class Bill Mangnall was chosen assistant cheer leader, and Lucille Porter was elected to the Student Council.

The next event of importance occurred when the Sophomores and Freshmen had their annual struggle. After much hard fighting, swords and masks were put away, and the Sophomores were declared winners.

Later three Sophomores came in and informed the Freshmen that they were the next day, to appear in costumes. The girls were to come as small boys and the boys as small girls. After a hard day the new conquerors were ready to take off their riggings. That night while far out at sea the initiation rites were held. They soon were over, and the gallant Freshmen retired to their bunks.

Several social functions were held during the year, the most important being a dancing party at the school house and a picnic toward the end of school.

With the close of school and their first year of conquest the Galley "33" hove in sight of the mainland ready to accomplish even greater deeds in this land of adventure.

Freshman Initiation

The slanting rays of a rising October sun struck the red-tiled roof of G. C. H. S. with the color-splashed hills in the background. The blue autumn sky was as clear as crystal, and a few golden leaves drifted lazily downward as the early morning quiet was suddenly shattered by a shrieking, giggling group of Freshmen in great commotion. Shrieking they were because of the urgent prods of the mighty Sophomores and giggling because of each other's ludicrous appearance. The boys' daintily rounded knees peeped in pink curves from beneath short, flouncing skirts. For this whole day of Freshmen Initiation they were to be dressed completely as little girls. Then came the girls, manly little fellows in short Lord Fauntleroy trousers and shirtwaists. To cap the scene the gloating Sophs made the Freshmen take one step back for every three ahead all the way to school. The quaking underclassmen somehow passed through the day of suspense only to find that this was to be play compared to the evening performance. That night in front of a sea of upturned, strange, yet familiar faces, they were made to re-enact scenes of their private lives, to take trips to an unheavenly heaven, to eat yards of string, to give dancing exhibitions, and to blow up balloons until they burst. It seemed that the more embarrassed one became, the more those strange far-away faces grinned, chuckled, laughed, and roared.

At last the ordeal was over and the Freshies, as well as the upperclassmen, trooped into the gym. There a dance was started with a grand march of the Freshmen whose faces looked much relieved and quite happy. At a late hour the dance closed and with it Freshman Initiation-- a gleaming milestone in school life.

First row: Richard Hadsell; Frank Thome; Matt Carroll; Earl Chase; Frank Crowley; Carol Velasquez
 Second row: Rudolph Bershenyi; Paul Harris; Premo Martino; Lorenzo Jackson; William Mangnall
 Harold Tanner. Third row: Albert Stevens; Orville Cranor; Llewelyn Davies; William McLean;
 Dale Baillie; Robert Young; Carol Fritz.

Freshman-Sophomore Contest

Come on, Frosh! You're doing fine!

Yea, Sophomores! Keep it up!

First one group of students could be heard and then another, and a great part of the time, there was just one continuous uproar.

The time was Friday afternoon, September 20th; the place--the lawn in front of the High School; the occasion--the Freshman-Sophomore Contest, one of the several tests to which the Frosh were submitted by the Sophomores.

The first event--the broad jump in which the Freshman girls and Sophomore boys took first place--was ushered in amid great enthusiasm, and things from then on moved along rapidly. The second event was the shotput with the Sophomores ahead; and after that in the girls' baseball throw Rose Trout and Elsie Heisler, Sophomores, won first and third respectively with Ruth Burch, a Freshman, coming in second. In the novel centipede race the Sophomore boys won first place with the Frosh second and third. A Freshman, Elsie Ray, next won first place in the Indian club race with two Sophomores, Katherine Siders and Cecil Taylor, taking second and third. Again luck seemed to ride with the Frosh in the boys' sack race, for they took all three places--Mangnall, first; Crowley, second; Jackson, third. In the boys' 75-yard dash Norman Dow, of the class of '32, crossed the line first with Mangnall, second for the Frosh, and Raymond Hope, Sophomore, third.

In the corresponding girls' 50-yard dash Inez Redwood and Ernestina Alexander won first and third for the Sophomores, Lula Watson gave second to the Frosh. The Sophomores succeeded in taking both the girls' and boys' relay races, but the Freshmen paid them back in easily winning the tug-o'-war, which concluded the afternoon's activities. The total scoring showed the Sophomores to be ahead by a score of 74-46.

The Freshmen seemed to fit right into the old G. C. H. S. spirit of persistence and good sportsmanship, for in spite of defeat they grinned their broadest, helped along by the anticipation of their day, which is yet to be.

Activities

Activities

Publicity Club

The two main projects of the Publicity Club, which is under the sponsorship of Miss Noonan, are the writing of the High School Notes weekly for the Glenwood Post and the editing of the Yampah, the G. C. H. S. yearbook.

The club meets for an hour and ten minutes every Tuesday. Their time is spent in writing the High School Notes and in working on articles for the Yampah.

In January the Club put on a very interesting program in the Assembly. The stage represented an editor's office, and each member of the club represented the head of a department of "The Weakly Harold." Some startling news was made known that morning to the editor, who was portrayed by Lucille Maxfield.

Each member of the club has a special department of the Yampah for which he is responsible, and members are asked to assist in other departments when they have completed their own. This method has proved to be very successful in the past.

Last year the Yampah won the Silver Loving Cup for first place in its division in the Yearbook Contest sponsored by the University of Colorado.

First row: Daisy Wirth, Angelina Zancanella, Tena Vaira, Miss Noonan, Sponsor, Vera Cantrell, Grace McDermott.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club, an entirely new activity, was organized this year under the leadership of Miss Noonan. The officers for the first semester were: Winslow Green, president; Tena Vaira, vice-president; and Grace McDermott, secretary and treasurer.

At the beginning of the year, each member of the club chose a project to work on, such as a poster, a drawing, or model of Spanish architecture or costuming. At each meeting a Spanish program was given consisting of plays, stories, games, or music. The members answered roll-call in Spanish, and no English was allowed during the sessions.

In the second semester the club entertained the school with a novel Spanish program. The entire club sang two Spanish songs; two short plays were given in which Jane Heberling, Vera Cantrell, John Mitchell, Parker McManus, Ellen Jackson and Daisy Wirth had parts; Grace McDermott sang a solo and Tena Vaira and Parker McManus gave their version of the tango.

On the whole the first Spanish Club was a huge success, and every one of the members now has a better understanding of the people and language of sunny Spain.

Printing Club

This year's Printing Club is composed of two divisions of ten each, an upper-class group meeting on Tuesday and a sophomore group meeting on Thursday. The Club this year did not do any of the actual work on the Annual, but they greatly assisted its publication by doing all the shop work during the second semester, which included all advertising work for basketball games, contests, track, Junior play, and band activities besides dance and school programs, invitations, and other things too numerous to mention.

Mr. Latson, the club sponsor, says that this group has been an excellent one, and that this has been the most successful year in the history of the Printing Club.

First row: Lucile Blowers, Lucille Maxfield, Jane Heberling, Margaret Donegan, Isobel Harris, Anna Bianco.

Second row: Frank Crowley, Bert Gregori, Mrs. Sharp, Sponsor, Rudolph Bershenyi, Premo Martino.

Penmanship Club

“Sign here, please.”

How many of us have to write nearly every day of the world and how poorly most of us do it! For this reason Mrs. Sharp sponsors a penmanship club for the students of G. C. H. S. No officers are elected, as the sole purpose of the club is to learn to write well.

A club credit is given only to those obtaining a High School Certificate in the Palmer Method of Business Writing. Two girls, Jane Heberling and Margaret Donegan, received their certificates at the end of the first semester. The other members of the club continued their work in the second half-year.

This club was organized to meet a practical need, and it accomplished its purpose. Those whose penmanship was scarcely legible at the beginning of the year showed marked improvement long before the term's work was complete.

Orchestra

This year the orchestra of G. C. H. S. has sixteen members. The instrumentation is very well balanced, and great progress has been made under the new leader, Mr. Njaa. Twice a week the members of the orchestra meet in separate groups of horns, while Miss Pollock has charge of the violinists. The use of this method has greatly strengthened the organization both as to the individual players and as a whole.

Many concerts made up of orchestra numbers, solos, and duets have been enjoyed during assembly periods. At various public entertainments throughout the year the orchestra has appeared and played. The repertoire has included many different types of music, the most difficult selection studied being one from "Rigoletto."

Several social affairs, consisting mainly of picnics, were enjoyed by the members, who feel that the time devoted to orchestra activities this year has been well worth while.

Science Workers Club

The Science Club was organized under the leadership of Mr. Walter Sharp, science instructor.

At the first meeting of the club, a constitution was drawn up, setting forth the aims and purposes of the club. The name chosen was "Science Workers' Club." The organization consisted of the usual officers, elected for each semester, and a program committee for each semester, appointed by the President. The first officers chosen were: Edwin Robison, president; Regina Murdock, vice-president; Max Paine, secretary and treasurer. Orville Cranor was elected president for the second semester, assisted by Albert Stevens, vice-president; and Kathryn Deckrow, secretary and treasurer.

The aims and purposes of the club as set forth in the constitution were:

1. To keep abreast of modern movements in science.
2. To study things and events of scientific nature not included in the regular curriculum.
3. To gain a better understanding of the nature of our surroundings.
4. To learn to talk intelligently about scientific matters.
5. To develop a scientific attitude.
6. To develop a self-reliance and initiative.

The club year was spent in carrying out these aims and purposes through various scientific activities. An interesting assembly program was conducted by the club on January 18. The club also sponsored several interesting and instructive motion picture entertainments during the second semester.

The members of the club feel that they have spent a very interesting and worthwhile year as members of Science Workers and have learned many scientific facts that should prove useful to them in later life.

First row: Ruth Burch, Viola Dore, Miss Bair ,Sponsor, Jean Pottenger, Jean MacDonald.
Second row: Ernestina Alexander, Cecel Taylor, Esther Guadnola, Inez Redwood, Margaret Thome.
Third row: Juanita Fagan, Elsie Heisler, Thelma Taft, Elsie Ray.

The Girls' Cooking Club

Take thirteen Freshmen and Sophomore girls with one Sponsor, Miss Bair, and work together; go out for breakfast on Lookout Mountain; make cookies for P. T. A. reception; serve tea for Mothers and teachers; demonstrate to the assembly how to serve a dinner correctly; make Christmas candy, salads, sandwiches; serve a supper to the basketbell teams after the game with Carbondale; add one new girl, Maude Lawrence, and the result is the Merry Mixers of the Mixing Bowl Club.

Vogue Club

As the name suggests the Vogue Club aims to keep up to the minute in all kinds of sewing and handwork. Membership this year was open only to those girls who were not enrolled in a food or clothing course.

At the first meeting of the year, the following officers were elected: president, Edith Sloss; vice president, Jane Heberling; secretary and treasurer, Glenda Gellinger.

Interesting programs have been given by various members at frequent intervals during the year. Before Christmas, everyone seemed busy embroidering, batiking, or tie-dyeing Christmas presents, but since then it must be their hope chests they are filling, because each Tuesday finds them just as busy as they were before.

First row: Carl Lake, Matt Carroll, Laurence Pratt, William Mangnall, Durwood Stapp.
Second row: Vaughn Allen, Eugene Crowley, Robert Brackney, William Hubbard.
Third row: James Guadnola, Miss Bair, Sponsor, Chester Watson.

The Boys' Cooking Club

When the clubs were chosen last fall, a group of boys desiring to be chefs joined the Cooking Club, under the direction of Miss Bair.

Their first masterpiece was a batch of baking powder biscuits. Since then the boys have turned out pies, cakes, cookies, puddings, candy, and muffins fit for a king.

The presiding officers of the club are: Chief Cook and Dishwasher, Jimmie Guadnola; Assistant, Chester Watson; Hasher, Bill Hubbard.

The 11 o'clock meal every Thursday has been much enjoyed by the faculty and many of the students.

Debating Club

The Debating Club of last year, which made such a splendid record under the able guidance of Miss Peterreins, grew from six to seventeen members this year.

The purpose of the club is to train its members in the art of purposeful, logical, persuasive public speaking. To better facilitate this end, the club was divided into two sections, one of which meets on Tuesdays, the other on Thursdays.

The Club debated the state question: Resolved, That the present tendency toward chain combinations in retail business should be condemned. Because of the size of the club, two negative and two affirmative teams were organized.

On Friday, January 10, the first public appearance of the club was made, when two of the teams entertained the assembly by debating the state question. The other two teams debated at the February meeting of Parent-Teacher Association. From these four teams, Miss Peterreins selected a negative and an affirmative team to represent G. C. H. S. in interschool debates. The club is a member of the State Debating League, and participated in debates with other Western Colorado schools. At the end of the season, letters were awarded to members who had debated twice in interschool competition.

Various social activities during the year were much enjoyed by the members and served to alleviate the monotony of school life.

Affirmative Team: George Winters, Darrel Winters, Mabel Crook, Miss Peterreins, Sponsor.
 Negative Team: Charles Merrill, Bernard Gellinger, Kenneth Sherrill.

Debating

Garfield County High School won a splendid victory last spring over the debating teams from Rifle Union High School in a dual debate on the question: "Resolved that the United States Policy of Diplomatic and Military Intervention in Latin America Should Be Condemned."

The G. C. H. S. debaters at Glenwood, George and Darrell Winters and Mae Bell Crook, had very strong arguments for the affirmative side of the question and backed each statement with a wealth of material. The Rifle debaters, Vance Pugh, Robert Harmon, and Jacob Emery, upheld the negative and made some very forceful speeches, altho they did not have the material possessed by the G. C. H. S. debaters.

The points for each side were close, the judges, Mrs. Raymond Harris, of Cardiff, Mr. G. S. Darley, of Rifle, and Mr. C. H. Darrow of Glenwood, rendering a 2-1 decision in favor of the Glenwoodites.

The Glenwood negative team composed of Kenneth Sherrill, Bernard Gellinger, and Charles Merrill debated at Rifle against the Rifle affirmative team composed of Mary Moore, Florence Yarberry, and Marie Connors. After some heated arguments and statements the judges awarded the decision to the Red and White representatives. Two of the judges were from Rifle and the third was from Grand Valley.

The debating activities in the G. C. H. S. are under the direction of Miss Mabel Peterreins. She and her teams may justly feel proud of their success in this dual debate.

Athletic Council

The Athletic Council of G. C. H. S. is chosen annually by popular vote of the high-school students. This organization is composed of four boys and three girls usually selected from those who have earned their athletic letters at G. C. H. S.

This association, sponsored by Mr. Moorhead, takes care of and controls the expenditure of funds which are derived from the games played by G. C. H. S. The department co-operates with the Printing Club which is responsible for all advertising needed by the Athletic Association.

This group with the aid of the members of the student body promotes spirit and interest in the teams of G. C. H. S. They also make and enforce many rules and regulations concerning athletic matters and have charge of the season-ticket sale for the football and basketball games.

Hi-Y

The G. C. H. S. Hi-Y Club was continued last fall with Mr. Shull as Sponsor, and enjoyed a very successful and worth-while year. The purpose of the club is "To create, maintain, and extend, throughout school and community, high standards of Christian character". "Clean living, clean speech, clean scholarship, and clean athletics", is the club's slogan.

In furtherance of these ideals, the Hi-Y was responsible for three very interesting and inspiring assembly programs during the year, the first being a Thanksgiving program put on by members of the club, in which the spirit of Thanksgiving was emphasized. In January, the club asked Mr. Blaine to address the assembly on "The Decalog of Thrift", which talk was very timely and brought out several good rules of thrift to follow if we are to succeed in life. Mr. Hoisington, State Y. M. C. A. Secretary, addressed the assembly in a very frank and pleasing manner, giving much helpful advice, during his annual visit to the Hi-Y Club, in March.

Besides these activities, the club gave special monthly emphasis to Physical Fitness, Father and Son, World Fellowship, Thrift, Leadership, Mother and Son, Vocational Guidance, and Join the Church. The Club also had charge of raising and lowering the flag during the year.

Several new members were initiated in January, so that next year's Hi-Y Club may be even bigger and more active than was this year's, and help more boys into the realization that they must "play the game" fairly and honorably if they are to succeed in life.

 Third Row: Charline Zellar, Durwood Stapp, Jane Reynolds, Ernest Alexander.

Dramatic Club

The Upper Class Dramatic Club under the direction of Miss Conkling studied the following one-act plays:

"He Said and She Said," with the following cast:

Diana Chesborough, A society girl - Jane Reynolds
 Enid Haldeman, her friend - Helen Robertson
 Felix Haldeman, Enid's husband - Carl Lake
 Mrs. Cyrus Packard, their friend - Helen Johnson

"His Day Off" with the following cast:

John Brigham - Mose Durbin
 Mrs. Brigham - Aline Paine
 Mrs. Podd, a neighbor - Neva Johnson
 Callie, the maid - Rose Holland

"The Flash"

Joe - Durwood H. Stapp
 Kenneth, - Mose Durbin
 Doctor, who is the "Flash" - Carl Lake.

Helen Robertson, a member of this dramatic club, won second place in the preliminary dramatic contest with her dialect reading, "Business in Mississippi."

First row-- Regina Murdock, Thelma Taft, Miss Porter, Sponsor, Jane Heberling, Jane Reynolds, Rose Holland.

The Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club consists of twelve members. The first half of the year, under the direction of Miss Porter, the organization sang in assembly. The last of the year, under the direction of Miss Pollock, the club sang in assembly, at the Junior Play, and contributed to a concert given during Music Week.

Pins were awarded the following: Jane Reynolds, Mariana Greear, Thelma Taft, Mildred Prine, Helen Johnson, Neva Johnson, Regina Murdock, and Gertrude Lillard.

The officers of the club for the year were: president, Jane Reynolds, pianist; vice-president, Mildred Prine; secretary and treasurer, Thelma Taft.

The Student Council

The Student Council of G. C. H. S. is composed of the president and vice-president of the student body and a representative from each class.

This year the members are: James Guadnola, president of the student body; Bernard Gellinger, vice-president; William Robichaud, Senior representative; Eugene Trechter, later succeeded by Vera Goodenburger, Junior representative; Norman Dow, Sophomore representative, and Lucille Porter, Freshman representative.

The purpose of the Student Council is to co-operate with the principal and faculty in making and enforcing laws and regulations concerning the welfare of the school.

This year the main accomplishment of the Student Council in addition to their usual duties was the arranging of an extra study period before school in the morning. The council members made and enforced rules concerning speaking privileges so as to provide a suitable place in which to study for those who wish to use the half hour before school opens for that purpose.

Honor Society

Each year Garfield County High School is proud to choose several students of the Senior and Junior classes as members of the National Honor Society. These students are elected by votes of a faculty committee from those ranking among the upper third of the class in scholarship. In choosing them the teachers take into consideration the individual's character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

These students may be justly proud to wear the tiny gold pins that they carry out into the world with them, as it is not merely a local honor, but one of national recognition.

This year five girls were the fortunate ones who won this coveted honor: Margaret Donegan, Lucile Maxfield, Jane Heberling, Tena Vaira, and Dorothy Meier,

The Band

This year, under the leadership of the new director, Harold R. Njaa, the band has reached a greater magnitude and perfection than ever before. At present there are eighty-four members from grade school, high school, and a few alumni. These alumni are permitted to take part in all activities except the playing of the contest pieces in the Western Slope High School Band Tournament held each spring at Grand Junction.

The goal of this organization is its entrance in this tournament to be held this year April 26 and 27. The pieces rehearsed for the tournament were Attila Overture by Haraly and the Bridal Song from the Rustic Wedding, by Goldmark.

Although many grade school musicians are members of the band, it is entered as a high school band. It is permissible for grade school students to enter a high school band. The reverse, however, is not permissible.

Among the improvements of this band over last year's is the purchase of many new uniforms, which were donated by the business men and the addition of a flute, oboe, and piccolo. It is the plan to have a complete instrumentation by next year.

The band has progressed much during the past year, and Director Njaa is to be commended for his work. However, the success of the band is always due greatly to the effort of the players, and since they have worked long and hard, the success which they have had has surely been earned by them.

First row: Mildred Douglas, Elsie Heisler, Inez Redwood, Jo Heberling, Catherine Tessadri.
 Second row: Laurence Pratt, Dorothy Meier, Mildred Prine, Edwin Robison, Ruth Gambrel, Third row: Omer Brackney, Darrell Winters, Robert Brackney, William Robichaud.

County Contest

The commercial team of Garfield County High School won the Annual County Contest held at Rifle, May 4th, 1929. The G. C. H. S. students who were sent made very good records. The winners and events were as follows:

Rapid Calculation: George Winters 1st. 61
 Darrell Winters 2nd. 60

Spelling: Edwin Robison

Typing II: George Winters 1st. 57 6-15

Typing I: Jo Heberling 3rd. 34

Shorthand II: Omar Brackney 1st. 92%
 Ruth Gambrel 2nd. 87%

Shorthand I: Catherine Tessadri 2nd. 96%
 Alice Barrett 3rd. 94 $\frac{2}{3}$ %

Penmanship: Mildred Douglas 3rd.

Bookkeeping: Silt 1st.

The final standing of all the entrants is as follows:

Glenwood--23
 Silt--18
 New Castle--14
 Rifle--12
 Grand Valley--3

Sitting: Edwin Robison, Clarence Rowe.
Standing: Vera Goodenburger, Tena Vaira, Lucile Maxfield.

Gunnison Contest

The representatives to the Gunnison Scholarship Contest of last May made a good record, a score of 15.25 points, which placed them seventh in the list of over 50 schools which were taking part in the scholarship contests of the state. The representatives of G. C. H. S. who placed in the contests were well up in their subjects and scored high averages considering the very close competition in which they were placed and considering the fact that their team of five had to compete against an average team of fifteen from other schools.

The G. C. H. S. contestants and courses in which they won places are as follows:

In Biology, Lucile Maxfield placed first, and Tena Vaira tied for second.

In Physics, Clarence Rowe took second place.

In Chemistry, Edwin Robison placed second.

In Spanish I, Tena Vaira placed second.

In English XI, Lucile Maxfield tied for fourth place.

In Current History XI, XII, Clarence Rowe took fourth place.

Montrose High School won the contest with 42.45 points.

Garfield County High School is justly proud of the record made by these students.

Seated: Lucille Maxfield, Miss Conkling, Sponsor, Clarice Hop?, Edwin Robison, Jane Heberling, Margaret Donegan.
Standing: Gertrude Lillard, Caroline Elder, Anna Bershenyi, Mildred Prine, Angelina Zancanella, Terry Vaira, Mariana Greear, Dorothy Meier.

The Scroll Club

The Scroll is a club newly organized this year for the purpose of promoting interest in writing. From twenty-four manuscripts handed, under pen-names, to Miss Conkling, head of the English Department, thirteen members were chosen. At the first meeting in January, the Scroll elected Jane Heberling, president; Lucile Maxfield, vice-president; and Edwin Robison, secretary and treasurer. Besides the History, Prophecy, Poem, and Will for the Class of 1930, there has come from this group many clever parodies, poems, essays, and stories.

Regular meetings are held every Wednesday after school, and a social evening is planned once a month.

Membership in this club was the result purely of interest in, and love for writing, as most work which is done because it is enjoyed is done well, the work of this group was excellent. Several of their selections have been accepted for publication in the April and May numbers of The Magazine World.

Saeted: Gertrude Lillard, Regina Murdock, Mariana Greear, Dorothy Lake, Mildred Gatliff, Vernice Maxfield.

Standing: Durwood H. Stapp, Vaughn Allen, Chester Watson, Mr. Latson, Sponsor, Eugene Conner, Eugene Crowley, Premo Martino.

Printing and Art Classes

Printing is a regular course in G. C. H. S. It is headed by Mr. Latson. The main project of this class is to print the school annual. Besides the annual work they print stationery, calling cards, posters, doorhangers, and make all kinds of school activity programs and advertising material.

Because of the fact that the class meets at eight o'clock in the morning, this year for the first time, it has not been necessary to do much outside work on the annual. The members have co-operated excellently with Mr. Latson in reaching class before the regular school hours, and this book speaks eloquently of the type of work they have done.

Contrary to the general opinion that special talent is needed to become a member of the art class, G. C. H. S. offers a course in art which anyone interested may take.

In comparison with the small number of pupils taking art, a surprisingly large amount of work has been covered this year. Their main project was the art work on the Yampah. In addition to this they made posters; also decorations carrying out the Japanese motif in a most original way were made by them for the P. T. A. Valentine Party. Among the many other things accomplished was work in clay modeling, sketching in charcoal, water colors, pen and ink, dyes, poster paint, and craft work.

The members of the art class were: Mildred Gatliff, Gertrude Lillard, Vernice Maxfield, and Matt Carroll. Mrs. Quail was in charge.

The staff and sponsors of the 1930 Yampah wish to acknowledge their indebtedness for the able assistance rendered by the members of the Bookbinding and Manual Training Classes in putting out this book. Those who aided in this work are:

Neva Johnson	George Broughton
Anna Bershenyi	John Walsh
Valeska Riley	John Hendrson
Veva Lytle	Eugene Conner
Margaret Thome	Bruce Docker
Frank Thome	Clayton Docker
Bill Mangnall	Bill McLean

Frank Crowley

Junior Class Play

The Junior Class of 1931 presented its play, "Am I Intruding?", a mystery comedy in three acts, on March 28. Act I was a spring morning on which Jerry intrudes. The characters moved through the first scene, as through all the others, with snappy precision and correctness. Scene II was late the next day. Jerry took a hand, and the story reached its climax as the curtain fell. The concluding act took place the following morning. Jerry, who had been masquerading as a green country boy unraveled the thread of mystery, and he himself proved to be the son of a wealthy and well-known manufacturer.

The two outstanding characters were Mildred Gatliff, portraying Mona, the petite French maid, and Kenneth Hutchings, who masqueraded as a model secretary without "a lick of sense." William Hubbard as Jerry and Winslow Greene as the middleaged father both did splendid work. Max Paine as "Petie", the disappointed lover certainly made all the girls hold their breath. Chester Watson portrayed well the part of the villain, and Fern Pitts as the unfaithful housekeeper did much to carry along the action and plot of the play. Grace McDermott and Charline Zeller as two outrageous flirts seemed to fit into their parts as if they were made for them, while Vera Goobenberger as Marjorie Vare played her part with equal charm and grace. Jane, the story-writer, was exceedingly well portrayed by Vernice Maxfield, and the plot would not have been complete without the jealous lover, portrayed by Bernard Gellinger. All in all, the Junior play was a tremendous success. This success was due largely to the capable management of Miss Peterreins, Junior sponsor, and to the assistance of Miss Conkling. Much credit is also given the business staff composed of Paul Henderson, Norma Phillips, Eugene Trechter, and William Schrupp.

Senior Class Play 1930

"The Poot Nut," presented Friday, November 22, at the Junior High Auditorium by the Senior Class, was a huge success, both financially and as a stage production.

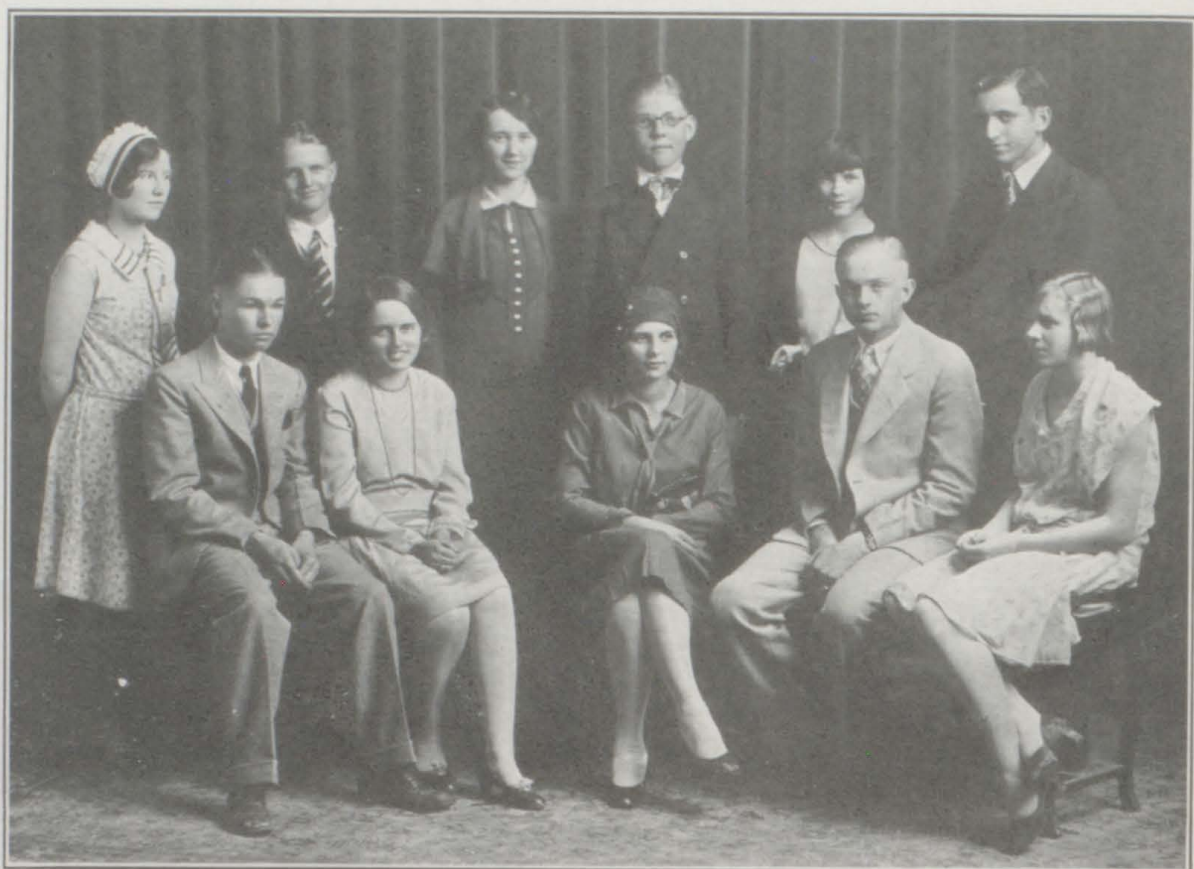

This success was due largely to the splendid work of Judge Bell and Miss Noonan in directing the play.

From the rise of the curtain on the University Book store in the first Act until the last curtain was dropped over the Psi Sigma House living room in the last act, there was scarcely a serious face in the house.

Austin Dever as the "Poor Nut," a college "sap," was a riot. His mode of fighting was unique. He makes sure that someone else has a hold on his adversary, and then he sticks a cactus into him. Margaret Donegan, "our leading lady," was sweeter and prettier than ever and portrayed very well the part of a bashful college girl. Jo Heberling fitted right into the part of a beautiful, ultra-modern co-ed who tries to civilize the "Poor Nut." Harold Gambrel was certainly a peppy yell leader, who was just as peppy when not leading yells. Edwin Robison and William Robichaud as college youths rushed the play along to success. John Mitchell as the bookstore proprietor and athletic trainer, and Anthony Alexander as the coach put plenty of life and realism into their acting. James Guadnola, captain of the Wisconsin track team, was a very handsome and "hardboiled villain. Frank Crowley was just himself in the role of the Freshman. A dignified and level-headed professor was portrayed by George Broughton. In the last scene the stage was graced with the presence of Dorothy Meier, Bertha Burdge, and Caroline Elder as pretty co-eds. The second act was made quite thrilling raceby a very realistic relay with "ye howling mob" in the background

Between the first and second acts Clarice Hope gave a clever tap dance to the tune of "The Sidewalks of New York."

Between the last two acts two delightful specialty dances were given by Tena Vaira, Dagmar Mitchell, Jane Heberling, Dorothy Lake, and Clarice Hope, under the direction of Tena Vaira.

Seated: Edwin Robison; Lucile Maxfield; Caroline Elder; Austin Dever; Dorothy Meier.
 Standing: Helen Rigney; Harold Gambrel; Mildred Prine; John Mitchell; Margaret Donegan;
 James Guadnola.

Junior Class Play 1929

On the night of April 26th at the Junior High Auditorium the Junior Class presented the play, "The Whole Town's Talking," a three-act comedy written by Anita Loos and John Emerson.

The excellent way in which everyone of the players fitted his part was the outstanding feature of the play.

Austin Dever carrying the role of the hero, Chester Binney, evoked many laughs by his lazy, matter-of-fact manner when Henry Simmons, played by Edwin Robison, was trying to get him to marry his daughter, Ethel, portrayed by Dorothy Meier.

Mr. Simmon's wife, Lucille Maxfield, thought that men should sow their wild oats before marriage and was therefore interested in Roger Shields, portrayed by Jimmie Guadnola, a sophisticated young man of many romances.

Caroline Elder, as Letty Lythe, a famous motion picture star with whom Binney was supposed to have had a romance in Hollywood, by a strange turn of fate almost turned out to be a home-wrecker, while her fiance, Donald Swift, played by John Mitchell, was wrecked in a mad scramble with Binney and Roger.

Lela Wilson, whose part was taken by Tena Vaira, as a lisping vamp, and Sally Otis, portrayed by Bertha Burdge, kept the gossip going, much to the enjoyment of the audience.

Helen Rigney proved to be a very good and dignified maid.

The taxi driver, Harold Gambrel, did not help family matters any by returning to Mr. Simmons the purse of Sadie Bloom, a tough, young dancing teacher, whose part was taken by Jo Heberling.

Mildred Prine, as Mrs. Jackson, helped the girls, Margaret Donegan, Daisy Wirth, and Ora Howard, to spread the news.

Junior Promenade

A most elaborate and pretentious affair and one of the most successful in the history of Garfield County High School was the Junior Promenade, given May 18th. The Class of '30 were hosts to the students of the high school, the faculty, and many friends.

The aeroplane motif was effectively carried out in the decorations. The Armory Hall was made to resemble a huge aeroplane hangar. In the ceiling were moored two huge paper aeroplanes and one gigantic zppelin. Hundreds of streamers in the Senior Class colors, lavender and white, formed the roof and sides of the hangar. Attractive programs also carried out the aeroplane design.

The Grand March was led by the Junior Class President, Margaret Donegan, and Anthony Alexander. They were followed by the Senior President, Darrell Winters, and Aline Mangnall.

The success of the affair was due to the following people who served on committees:

Decorating committee: James Guadnola, Dagmar Mitchell, George Broughton, Regina Murdock, John Henderson, and Eugene Conner.

Arrangement committee: Anna Bershenyi, Mildred Prine, Angelina Zancanella, and Ellen Jackson.

The Junior-Senior Banquet

The Junior-Senior Banquet given by the Juniors in honor of the Class of 1929 will go down in the history of Garfield County High School as one of the most successful social affairs ever undertaken.

The Banquet was given in the Junior High Auditorium, which was artistically decorated in keeping with the aeroplane motif used in the Junior Prom decorations. The tables were arranged in the form of a huge aeroplane. Suspended from the ceiling were streamers of rose, lavender, and white, in the midst of which was moored a huge paper zppelin bearing the number '29.

Between courses a very enjoyable and entertaining musical program was given, consisting of the following numbers:

Clarinet Solo
Reading
Violin Solo

Kenneth Hutchings
Mildred Gatliff
Jo Heberling

Margaret Donegan, acting as toastmistress, spoke on the subject, "The Student Pilot", after which the following people gave brief talks, in keeping with the aeroplane motif carried out in the decorations:

To the Maiden Flight
Taking Off from G. C. H. S. Flying Field
Trial Flights
"We"
Beacon Lights
Song--Farewell Plane

Edwin Robison
Darrell Winters
Mr. Moorhead
Lucile Maxfield
Mr. Blain

Senior Class Night--May 27

On Monday, May 27, at the Senior Class Night the following program was given:

Introduction	Class President, Darrell Winters
Salutatory	Clarence Rowe
Class History	Silas Young
Sousaphone Solo	Edwin Johnson
Class Poem	Ruth Gambrel
Class Will	Mae Belle Crook
Trumpet-Trombone Duet	Darrell Winters and Donald Baillie
Class Prophecy	Kenneth Sherrill
Dedication Song	Quartet
Valedictory	Charles Merrill
Class Song	The Class

Words by Kathryn Blaine and Evelyn Logan

Commencement Exercises--May 30

Commencement exercises, the finis of high-school life for the Class of '29, were held in the auditorium of the Junior High Building, May 30.

A very interesting and well-planned program was given, marking another milestone in the lives of the members of the class, which, though now only a memory, will be cherished by them for many years to come. The Processional was played by the Grade School Orchestra, followed by an invocation by Rev. Edwin Johnson. The Girls' High School Glee Club then sang "The Rustic Dance" by Johann Resch. The address, given by Rev. Bert Bessire, following this number, was a very interesting, eloquent, and practical one, containing much advice for the graduating class. After this address, the High School Principal, Mr. M. R. Moorhead, presented the class to the President of the School Board, Mr. M. J. Mayes, who with a few fitting remarks presented the diplomas. Following this, Supt. W. D. Blaine awarded scholarships to the following people: Charles Merrill Jr., a scholarship to Colorado University in recognition of his holding the highest average in the class; Clarence Rowe, a scholarship to Denver University for holding second-highest average in the class. Again the High School Girls' Glee Club favored the audience by singing "Farewell, Dear School We Love," a song most appropriate for the occasion. The Benediction was given by Rev. Edwin Johnson, after which the members of the Grade School Orchestra played the Recessional.

The Alumni Prom--May 31

"Lest auld acquaintance be forgot,
And never brought to mind."

The annual Alumni Prom can be numbered among the successful social affairs given during the season. Staged in the Armory Hall, those present had the pleasure of again enjoying the artistic decorations used for the Junior Prom. With a background of lovely music a delightful evening was spent in dancing and renewing acquaintances of days gone by.

The Sweater Dance

The Annual Sweater Dance, given Friday, September 13, by the Seniors, was a decided success. The High School Gymnasium was tastefully decorated with crepe paper in the Seniors' colors. The lights were shaded with yellow, green, orchid, and pink. The music, furnished by the Harris Orchestra, was very peppy. After singing several school songs, everyone joined whole-heartedly in the snake dance, making the gym ring with the sounds of their gaiety. If possible, the tempers of the merrymakers were improved by Milky-Way candy bars. The hosts and guests all declared this sweater dance was one of the best in the history of G. C. H. S.

The arrangement committee was composed of Austin Dever, Dorothy Meier, and Bertha Burdge. On the decorating committee were Margaret Donegan, Tena Vaira, Regina Murdock, and Lucile Maxfield.

Magazine Contest Party

On Friday, Nov. 15, a dancing party was given in the High School Gymnasium by the losing team in the Annual Magazine Contest sponsored by the Curtis Publishing Company. Arrangements for the dance were made by the captains of the losing team, who were: Bernard Gellinger, William Robichaud, James Guadnola, Gertrude Lillard, Lucile Porter, Regina Murdock, Anthony Alexander, and Iris Morse.

Refreshments in the form of delicious candy bars were served during the course of the evening.

P. T. A. Valentine Party

Saturday evening, February 15, the High School was the scene of a clever Valentine party which was sponsored by the P. T. A.

The decorations were carried out with a Japanese motif and showed much originality on the part of the decoration committee, which was composed of the members of the Art Class, under the direction of Mrs. Quail. The lights were shaded with artistic lamp shades. At each end of the hall small, twinkling blue lights were suspended. Lovely hand-painted Japanese wall hangings decorated the sides of the gym. The balcony railings were wrapped with white crepe paper and decorated with attractive Japanese scenes.

Part of the evening was spent in playing games. One of the games most enjoyed was testing the archery skill of the guests. The latter part of the evening was spent in dancing. A grand march in which the participants formed a large heart was greatly enjoyed by the guests before starting their dancing. Much enjoyment was derived from a Virginia Reel in which every one joined. During the course of the evening Glenda Gellinger and Anthony Alexander were voted the Queen and Knave of Hearts.

At the close of the affair delicious refreshments, consisting of ice cream and angel food cake, were served to a most appreciative group of guests who felt very much indebted to the P. T. A. for the pleasant evening afforded them.

The P. T. A. committee in charge of the affair was headed by Mr. Latson, assisted by Mrs. Gellinger, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Pottenger, and Mrs. McDermott.

P. T. A. Formal Dance

On Friday, March 15, the P. T. A. gave a formal dance for the High School at the High School Gym. Dancing to music furnished by the Harris Orchestra formed the main attraction of the evening.

The gym was transformed into a mass of green and white streamers and colorful evening dresses. Attractive green and white dance programs were given to each guest.

Several Alumni were seen wending their way among the many high-school students and faculty members.

Near the close of the evening punch was served by a P. T. A. committee composed of Mrs. Harold Parkison, Mrs. Mitchell, and Mrs. Emma Paine, assisted by the domestic science teacher, Miss Winnie Bair.

Girls' Track

The members of the Glenwood girls' team proved themselves superior to the other schools in the County Track Meet held at Rifle, Saturday, May 4. The G. C. H. S. girls made a splendid showing, placing in everything except the baseball throw. This makes a high record for the school, having taken first place the last two consecutive years. The events and places were:

Broad Jump	Mildred Prine, G	Inez Redwood, G	Silt	6 ft. 3 in.
50-Yd. Dash	Dorothy Meier, G	Inez Redwood, G	Silt	7 seconds
Baseball Throw	McPhee, R	Silt	New Castle	191 ft.

Water Fete

Saturday, September 21, 1929, was set as the Eighth Annual G. C. H. S. Water Fete Day at the Glenwood pool. The day dawned dark and gloomy. The weatherman seemed determined to give us plenty of water if that was what we were interested in, and Mr. Sun refused to show his face. However, the old G. C. H. S. spirit of enthusiasm was not to be dampened thus easily, and promptly at one-thirty the high-school students and faculty gathered at the pool, eagerly awaiting the first event, which was the forty-yard dash. The contestants were "on their toes" with enthusiasm, and competition ran keen, keeping the spectators in great anxiety and suspense. By the time the underwater swim terminated the fete, everyone was willing to call it a day, and a very successful day at that.

The mighty Seniors easily walked off with the Water Fete Banner - the proud possessors of 119 points. The Sophomores took second place with 70 points, the Juniors third with 65, and the Frosh brought up the rear with 34 points. Dorothy Lake of the Senior Class and Richard Lake of the Junior Class captured the coveted gold medals awarded by Mrs. Katherine Lucas to high-point girl and boy, while the following students won the prizes offered by the local merchants: Jean Pottenger, a Freshman, received the bathing suit given by the J. C. Penney Company for second-high-point girl; Robert Brackney of the Junior Class won the $3.00 in trade donated by Korn's Book Store for second-high-point boy. The Brownie Camera given by the Parkison Drug Company for third-high-point girl was awarded to Bertha Burdge of the Senior Class, and George Broughton, also a Senior, received the combination pen and pencil given by the City Drug Store. Daisy Wirth of the Senior Class won the girls' wading contest and was rewarded with a boudoir lamp from Howard and Torrey. Robert Brackney, a Junior, who won the boys' wading prize, received a bathing suit from B. T. Napier and Company.

All in all, the Eighth Annual Water Fete proved to be a great success, and the Juniors and Underclassmen of G. C. H. S. are even now looking forward to the time when they will again have an opportunity to prove their skill in aquatic events.

Football

The 1929 football season was, as a whole, a success, for the Demons won two out six games, both being with Glenwood's close rival, Rifle.

Coach Shull deserves much praise for his work with the Demon eleven. He had captain Dever, Watson, Robichaud, and Hubbard, lettermen, to form the nucleus of his team.

The Demons suffered a great loss in the early scrimmages when Captain Dever was injured and forced to withdraw for the season. Watson was chosen captain in his place.

Glenwood's first game was with the Craig eleven at Craig. The Demons' lack of practice was clearly shown in their first appearance. Glenwood scored a safety in the first five minutes of play but were unable to score after that. The final score was 18 to 2 in favor of the Oilers.

The Demons' second game was with their old rival, Rifle. The Glenwood boys had worked hard for this game and were in the pink of condition. The lone score of the contest came when Dow, Demon halfback, skirted around right end for thirty yards before he was downed on the five-yard line. Lake made the touchdown. The final score was 6 to 0.

The next encounter was with Oak Creek here. The Demons, fresh from a victory over Rifle, were hoping to make it two straight. The contest was Glenwood's by a 6-to-0 score until the last thirty seconds of play when an Oak Creek man caught a pass and ran ninety yards for a touchdown. They converted the extra point. Glenwood came out with the short end of a 7-to-6 count. In this game Glenwood suffered a great loss when Dow, star halfback, sprained his ankle and was unable to play in the next game with Steamboat Springs.

The clash of the season was with the Steamboat eleven here, October 19. The Demons fought like real Demons. Steamboat marched down the field five times in the first half to within the ten-yard line. There they found a stone wall that would not give. Steamboat's lone score of the game came in the fourth period after a series of line-bucks. They converted the point after the touch-down by a drop kick. The Demon line played their best game of football in this encounter. Steamboat later won the Yampah Valley Conference title.

A week after this encounter with Steamboat Springs the Demons journeyed to Rifle where they met the Rifle Bears. In the first quarter the Bears ran wild against the Demon eleven but were unable to score. In the last few minutes of the first period Robichaud tossed a pass to Brackney on Rifle's 45-yard line. Brackney dodged and outran five Rifle men for a touchdown. Watson failed to convert the extra point.

In the second period Rifle marched down the field for a touchdown and also failed to make the point-after-touchdown.

The third period found the teams battling in mid-field with honors even, Rifle going through the line and Glenwood completing passes. In the fourth period the Demons opened up with a strong passing attack and scored another touchdown, again failing to convert the extra point. The final score was 12-to-6 in favor of the Demons.

It will be worth while remembering that Glenwood completed ten out of twelve passes for nearly 150 yards from the line scrimmage.

Glenwood's next encounter was at Meeker. The Demons went with the intention of reversing the 60-0 defeat handed them by Meeker the year before, but failed. The field was snow covered, and the weather was cold at Meeker. This, no doubt, was a great handicap to both teams. It was Meeker's game from start to finish, but Glenwood put up a good fight. The final score was 51-to-0.

The following men received letters: Captain Watson, center; Eugene Conner, guard; John, "Dutch", Walsh, tackle; Bernard Gellinger, end; William Hubbard, guard; Dave Greear, tackle; end, Anthony Alexander; Norman Dow, halfback; Durwood Stapp, halfback; Carl Lake, fullback; William Robichaud, quarterback; and Robert Brackney, halfback.

Prospects for a winning team in 1930 are very good. The Demons will lose only three men: Conner, guard; Alexander, end; and Robichaud, quarterback.

First row: Lucile Maxfield, Caroline Elder, Jane Heberling, Captain Jo Heberling, Second row: Angelina Zancanella, Daisy Wirth, Clarice Hope, Ora Howard.

Girls' Inter-Class Basketball

The Senior girls carried off the championship honors in the Girls' Inter-class Basketball Tournament held the week preceding November 22 at the High School Gymnasium. Each class was allowed one evening to practice after picking its team. No letter-girls were allowed to play, a ruling which seemed to hit the Senior girls hard, as they have six letter-girls as members of their class. However, the Seniors rallied and, under the leadership of Jo Heberling, easily carried off all honors winning the title of Girls' Inter-class Basketball Champions. This is the second consecutive year in which this class has won the title, although last year the team was entirely of girls who this year are letter-girls and consequently could not be members of the class team. The members of the winning team were: Jo Heberling, Capt.; Jane Heberling, Caroline Elder, Clarice Hope, Daisy Wirth, Angelina Zancanella, Lucile Maxfield, and Ora Howard.

The following is a record of the girls' games played during the tournament:

Seniors	27	Freshmen	7
Juniors	27	Freshmen	4
Seniors	21	Juniors	12
Sophomores	22	Freshmen	5
Seniors	28	Sophomores	20
Juniors	32	Sophomores	20

Boys' Inter-Class Basketball

The Inter-Class Basketball Tournament began the third week in November and ended the following week. By a new ruling made this year no letter-men were allowed to participate, as the purpose of the Tournament is to find new material for the high-school team. Several valuable players were discovered this year by Coach Shull.

The first game of the Tournament found the Freshmen playing the Seniors. The game was very close and exciting. It being the first game, both teams made many misplays. The score was in favor of the Seniors.

The next game was between the Seniors and the Sophomores. The Seniors played a much better game against the Sophomores than against the Freshmen and won by a score of 20 to 4.

The Juniors next played the Freshmen. The Freshmen held the lead at the end of the first quarter, but the Juniors found themselves and won easily by a 21-to-4 score.

The next encounter found the Freshmen and Sophomores battling for the underclass supremacy in one of the most exciting games of the Tournament. The star of the contest was the sharp-shooting Freshman forward, Billy Mangnall. The winner was not decided until the final whistle blew. The Freshmen won by the close score of 12 to 10.

The final game, the one to decide the championship, was between the Seniors and Juniors. Oh, what a thriller this game proved to be! The lead shifted constantly from one team to the other throughout the entire game. The contest was featured by the close guarding of both teams and the basket shooting of Hutchings and Brackney for the Juniors and Guadnola for the Seniors. The final whistle left the score 15 to 12 in favor of the Juniors, the Tournament Champions.

Girls' Basketball

With Carbondale, there, Dec. 13. In the opening game of the season for G. C. H. S. the Demonettes were caught off their guard and defeated by a score of 24 to 22.

With Aspen, here, Dec. 20. In the second half Coach Boyd put in her second team, and they came off the floor with a victory of 39 to 21.

With the Alumni, here, Jan. 3. The Alumni gave the Demonettes a "run for their money", notwithstanding the score of 31 to 18 in favor of the High School.

With Aspen, there, Jan. 10. Again in the last half Miss Boyd put in some subs. The victory was topped by the score on 41 to 8.

With Carbondale, here, Jan. 11. The Demonettes came back at Carbondale with all their fighting spirit and gained a certain amount of compensation in the final score which was 32 to 10 in their favor.

With Eagle, here, Jan. 17. Eagle proved an extremely easy mark, for the Glenwood subs ran the score up 68 to 4.

With Rifle, there, Jan. 24. The Demonettes met their second and last defeat at the hands of the Rifle Teddy Bears, the score being 41 to 26.

With Grand Junction, here, Feb. 1. The representatives of the Red and White displayed their teamwork to the best advantage so far, winning with a score of 45 to 24.

With Grand Junction, there, Feb. 7. The Demonettes continued their triumphant line of victories, defeating Junction on their own floor 31 to 15.

With Fruita, there, Feb. 8. Fruita, too, fell before the "shooting" attack of the Red and White the score being 35 to 12.

With Fruita, here, Feb. 14. On their own floor, the Glenwood girls ran the score up 50 to 19 in their favor.

With Eagle, there, Feb. 21. The Demonettes "romped all over" Eagle as shown by the score, of 71 to 9.

With Rifle, here, Feb. 28. This was the biggest, fastest, and last game of the Basketball Season, bringing triumphant victory for the Demonettes and stinging defeat for the Teddy Bears with the close score of 39 to 36.

Although Lady Luck decreed in the first game of the season that the Demonettes would not go to Delta, at the same time she allowed them the satisfaction of defeating, during the course of the season, both teams who represented this district in the tournament, Carbondale and Rifle. The Red and White was well represented this year in one of the best teams that G. C. H. S. has yet put out.

BERTHA BURDGE-- Captain, star forward, and high-point girl was a flashing example of perfect coordination. Her goal shooting was par excellence. She rightfully deserved all credit given her.

MARGARET DONEGAN-- second-high-point girl, was good at free throwing and speedy passing. She advanced few wasted shots, was exceedingly nimble, and the fastest player on the floor. Rooters spoke of her as "chained lightning."

MILDRED PRINE-- jumping center, displayed unusual teamwork and a fast passing attack. She developed into a real player this season.

ORA HOWARD-- star running center, played a wonderful and spectacular game all season. The slogan of the team "Pep and teamwork" was decidedly demonstrated in this player. She was able to recover tip-offs from any angle.

DOROTHY MEIER-- "Dotty," was probably the most valuable player to the team because of her ability to play three positions with dependability and precision. She would bound right through with the ball on seemingly impossible plays and was quick to decipher the opposing forward's plan of attack.

DOROTHY LAKE-- also had the ability to play more than one position dependably. She showed great agility and was a "sticker"; no forward could get away from her. The two "Dotties" developed a speedy guard-combination.

HELEN RIGNEY-- guard, was never a flashy player but was steady and dependable--a hard-working player who turned back many baskets at critical moments.

HELEN JOHNSON-- when called upon to sub in a pinch, displayed amazing ability to rise to the occasion. She has a start for the two years ahead of her.

ELSIE HEISLER-- was a steady, willing player, entering whole-heartedly into the game when called upon. She, too, has two years yet to go.

MUCH CREDIT is also given to the following girls who worked hard and faithfully and without whom the team could never have developed as it did: Mary Wirth, Jane Reynolds, Fern Pitts, Elma Campbell, Lucille Porter, Inez Redwood, Ernestina Alexander, and Betty Tanner.

LAST BUT NOT LEAST all the basketball girls wish to express their thanks to Miss Helen K. Boyd, their faithful coach, who gladly devoted her time and her efforts to the success of the G. C. H. S. Basket Ball Season.

First Row--Kenneth Hutchings, Carl Lake, Richard Lake, William Claudon, William Mangnall.
 Second Row--Norman Dow, Bert Gregori, Anthony Alexander, Harold Gambrel, Bernard Gellinger.
 Third Row--Clayton Docker, Robert Brackney, Captain Austin Dever, Eugene Conner, Coach Shull, John Walsh.

Boys Basketball

The 1929-30 basket ball team had but two lettermen to work with, but many of the second-string men were back to help the Demons along.

Under the supervision of Coach Shull, G. C. H. S. put out a formidable team which won seven and lost five conference games.

The 1930-31 team will feel the loss of Captain Dever, Anthony Alexander, Eugene Conner, and Harold Gambrel, who will graduate this year.

Summary of the season:

Carbondale there: The Demons got off on a whirlwind start, defeating Carbondale in the opening game. Score 21 to 9.

Aspen here: The Miners had a hard-fighting quintet and defeated the Demons in the most thrilling game of the early season.

Alumni here: The G. C. H. S. Alumni proved to be too much for the inexperienced Demons, who suffered defeat by a 26-to-15 score.

Aspen there: The Miners again proved too much for the Demons and walloped them by a score of 37 to 23.

Carbondale here: The Demons still had hopes after their stinging defeat from the Aspenites and defeated the Carbondale Bulldogs 30 to 17 in their return game.

Eagle here: The first quarter looked like a walk-away for Eagle; it ended 12 to 1 in Eagle's favor. The Demons then got their fighting blood up and added another victory to their list, winning by a score of 45 to 21.

Rifle here: The Demons made a good start and piled up a score of 12 to 6 at the rest period. The Rifle Bears came back and took a hard-fought contest by a score of 17 to 14.

Grand Junction here: The Grand Junction Tigers had their usual strong team and defeated the Demons by a score of 38 to 22.

Grand Junction there: The Demons' encounter on the Tigers' floor proved disastrous for the Glenwood players. The Tigers had a lead of 18 to 2 at the end of the first period. After this period the Demons outscored the Tigers, but started too late. The score was 31-14.

Fruita there: The Wildcats proved no match for the fast-breaking Demon offense. The Demons won 26-8.

Fruita here: The Fruita team came to Glenwood with a stronger line-up than before, but went down under the Demons' crushing offense. The score was 46-19.

Eagle there: The Eagle team as a rule are hard to beat on their small floor. However, the Demons had little difficulty in winning 32-13.

Rifle here: The Rifle game was the big game of the season. The gym was packed, and the fans rooted hard for their favorites. The Demons had improved 100 per cent since the first encounter with the Bears, winning this exciting and hard-fought game. The score was 31-18 in the Demons' favor.

AUSTIN DEVER, Captain-- "Swede" was an excellent guard. He constantly rallied the spirit of the players. Although he was in a slump the last part of the season, he played a consistent game. His loss will be felt by the 1930-31 team.

ANTHONY ALEXANDER-- a fast, fleet forward, was always on the alert and was the leading scorer of the Demons. "Dutch" will be lost by graduation.

EUGENE CONNER-- a lanky center and an excellent guard, very seldom let an opposing man get the tip-off from him. "Stretch" will be lost through graduation.

HAROLD GAMBREL-- a fast floor-guard, was always in the game and played consistently. His ability to work in the offense as well as the defense, made him feared by the opposing team. "Squinx" will also be lost by graduation.

ROBERT BRACKNEY-- a good sport, and always fighting for the Red and White, very seldom missed a shot. He was second-high scorer of the Demons. "Bob" will be a great help to the 1930-31 team.

BERNARD GELLINGER-- at the pivot position was hard to get around. Being a good shot and fast on his feet made him feared by all opposing teams. "Brick" will be a needy player next season.

THE SUBS-- we cannot forget to mention the subs. They practiced faithfully, all season, to help Coach Shull and his Demons to build a formidable quintet.

A word about our Coach, Mr. C. W. Shull. Mr. Shull is a jolly fellow to work with. He is always willing and ready to improve the players' game and also their teamwork. The excellent teams he has put out are an eloquent proof of his success and skill.

1907-8 Track Team

Joe Slinkard, Dee Weidenhammer, Robert Brown, Grover Barrier, Bill Oberto, John Roberson, Earl Hubbard.

For the last two years the Yampah has had an Alumni Section. The records have been compiled from the first High School Class of 1891 up to and including that of 1918. This year the records will be continued from 1919. An effort has been made to find the whereabouts and occupation of each G. C. H. S. graduate. No doubt some mistakes have been made due to the inability of the Editor to locate some of the Alumni.

Any additional data that can be supplied by anyone concerning these graduates will be gladly received by the Editor.

Without those who give their assistance in locating Alumni and who donate pictures, it would be impossible to collect the desired information. To these, including Mrs. Cornelia Benedeck, Miss Mary McGuirk, Mrs. Annie Mae Holland, Mrs. Sylvia Bryant, and Miss Isa Link, the Editor gives his most sincere thanks for aid given him for this year's alumni news.

First Row--Lucille Oberly, Georgia Cole, Miss Walker, Coach Cornelia Burdge, Bernice Mangnall,
 Second Row--Erma Schwarz, Pauline Amichaux, Catherine Barrett, Dora Moscon, Blanche Burdge

Policeman, anxiously: When I blew the whistle, why didn't you stop?

Jo Heberling: You whistle so beautifully I just had to go on for fear you'd stop.

Boss: See here, you told my office girl you wanted to see me on a matter of life and death.

Edwin Robison: I do, sir. I want to sell you some life insurance.

English Teacher: Carl, give me a sentence containing ate.

Carl Lake: There were eight men.

Austin D.: I could go on dancing like this forever.

Margaret D.: Oh, no; you're bound to improve.

Mildred G.: Whence the rasping sound?

Grace Mc D.: Oh that's Miss Conkling filing a complaint against the junior boys.

Edwin R.: I wonder if I might kiss you?

Jo H.: Have you been wondering too?

Miss N.: No Ruby, the Four Horsemen of the Apocolypse aren't Paul Revere, Buffalo Bill, the Prince of Wales, and Barney Google.

Miss Peterreins during the study of the destruction of Fompei. Cecel, what destroyed Fompei?

Cecel: Vesuvius,

Miss Peterreins: What was Vesuvius?

Cecel: An Emperor.

The girls of the Senior Class were under a contract for English. They were to write a story and give pen name; one of the girls chose for her pen name Ima Inkslinger. Mr. Blaine came into the class, and Miss Conkling showed him this girl's name. He read the name.

Mr. Blaine: Ima Inkslinger. Oh, is she a new girl here?

Jack Mitchell: If looks could kill a person, I'd assassinate you with a glance.

Dorothy Lake: Oh, yeah? If looks could kill, it would be suicide for you to look in a mirror.

Miss Peterreins.: (to sleepy class) Well, what do you know about the great wall built by the Greeks?

Bill L.: Oh, that's a wall the Greeks built to keep out the barbarians and Jack Mitchell.

Willie R.: If you keep looking at me like that, I'll kiss you.

Bertha B.: Well, I can't hold this expression much longer.

Jack Mayes: I say, old fellow, loan me your ears a moment, will you?

Raymond Hope: Take both of them, and then I won't be able to hear you ask for anything else.

Willie Robichaud: Will you join me in a bowl of soup?

Jimmy Guadnola: Do you think there would be room for both of us?

Austin Dever had returned from his first day at school.

Father: And what did you learn to-day?

Austin: I learned to say "Yes sir" and "No sir" and "Yes ma'm" and "No ma'm."

Father: You did?

Austin: Yeah.

Harold Tanner: Whenever I learn anything, I store it away.

Neighbor: Well, I hope you'll soon learn to play your cornet.

Betty Tanner: Do you suffer with rheumatism?

Tena Vaira: Certainly, what else could I do with it?

Salesman: This motor travels at the rate of 10 revolutions per second.

Jimmy G.: Ah, a Mexican make.
