VOLUME XI

AUGUST 1984

NUMBER THREE

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT - Anne Wallin

The Arvada Historical Society Annual Meeting will be held Friday, August 24 at Bernard's Restaurant. Members can enjoy cocktails from 6:00 to 6:45 and dinner at 7:00 p.m. Sally Gunderman, owner of the Russell- Graves home which is on the National Historic Register, will be the guest speaker. Reservations may be made by calling Anne Wallin, 423-8266; Rosa Pyles, 424-8682; or by leaving your name on the tape at the Flour Mill 431-1261.

The ceremony to officially close East Arvada Junior High was a grand celebration of the importance of preserving our past. Hundreds of people reminisced with friends and savored memorabilia - class pictures, annuals, school newspapers, uniforms, programs from plays, report cards. The enthusiasm and spirit of the people there affirmed our need to keep records of the past. Heritage and roots are vital to us all. I hope that many of these citizens will join the Arvada Historical Society to insure that our history will be preserved. The Society needs members who have a commitment to Arvada's past.

Thanks so much - Marcetta, and all of those working with you - for a wonderful afternoon that celebrated history.

REMINDER!

Don't forget the Arvada Historical Society and Old Timer's Picnic on Sunday August 26, 1984 at 12:30 p.m. Bring a picnic lunch and come for a wonderful time. We will have the picnic in the pavillion at the North Jeffco Recreation Center at 9101 Ralston Road.

Come one! Come all! Renew old friendships and make new acquaintances. See you there!! Some classes are planning reunions at this time.

MUSEUM - By Margaret Alexander

August and September will be banner months for historical buffs in Arvada. The Gallery of the Arvada Center will be filled with over 300 prints of the West in the 19th century. The collection of Graham Curtis of Lakewood will be shown in an exhibition titled "The Saga of the American West in Prints." Many of the prints were made by artists who accompanied the two dozen government expeditions which explored, mapped, and reported on the West for the U.S. Army. Famous artists like Karl Bodmer, John James Audubon, Carl Wimar, George Catlin, and Thomas Moran are represented in the collection.

The exhibition opens on August 16 with a gala reception from 6 to 9 p.m. Arvada Historical Society members are invited to attend and enjoy a special performance by the Central City Opera Company of the "Face on the Barroom Floor", performed in the well of the Arvada Center's Museum.

The Museum is gearing up for a new exhibition, "Victorian Domestic Design", which opens August 29. Objects and decorative arts from the last half of the 19th century will illustrate the wide range of styles and materials Victorians employed in household design. Objects from the collection of Arvada Historical Society will be supplemented by pieces from the Colorado Historical Society, the Pioneers Museum in Colorado Springs, the Boulder Historical Society, and many private collections.

Along with Victoriana, our visitors to the Museum can see photogravures by Edward Curtis, the premier photographer of the American Indian in the early 20th century.

The docents of the Museum will receive acting lessons in July and August to train them for "The Ghost of the Haines Log House", a play written by Steve Hotchner especially for the Museum. The play calls for two adult actors and up to 30 children who "act out" life on the Colorado frontier with Abbie Haines. Details about booking the play for children's groups are described in a new brochure about the Museum which will be available at the end of August.

SPEAKER'S BUREAU - By Jane Gardner

The lazy days of summer are upon us. Why not book a walking tour in the cool morning or evening. We had one last month that ended up seeing the sights in the dusk of evening - not bad! Speaker's Bureau visited Little Elementary and hopefully inspired the little 3rd graders with Arvada's tale of early pioneers. Call Jane Gardner 424-0755 to book these events.

The Jefferson County Historical Commission is planning a reception to honor two recipients of the 1984 Hall of Fame on November 17, 1984, at 3 p.m. at the Lakewood Regional Library. The public is invited to this special event.

LADY LIBERTY - By Lois Lindstrom

Mark your calendar for Tuesday, October 23rd at 7:00 p.m. Barbara Daubenspeck will tell us all about our own Statue of Liberty "Lady Liberty". This will be a good program for children and prospective members. Meeting place will be the Arvada Center. Refreshments will be served.

WE NEED YOUR HELP!! - From the Lakewood Historical Society

The Ralston Crossing School, the only school of the old Jeffco District #12 has been located at Belmar Museum at 797 South Wadsworth Blvd., since September of 1983.

Prior to 1869, two institutions grew on the homestead of Francis J. McQuiston at 6730 Indiana St. The first of these institutions was the Ralston Creek Methodist-Episcopal Church credited to the year 1867. The second institution is the Ralston Crossing School which inherited the church by 1869.

The School continued as a one-room building until 1918 when a second classroom was added. The school remained at 6730 Indiana Street until 1918 when a second classroom was added. The School remained at 6730 Indiana Street until September, 1956, when it was moved to Vivian Elementary School, at 10500 W. 25th Avenue. A second career then began as one of R-1's famous temporary buildings.

In September of 1983, a third career began. The School was offered to and accepted by the Lakewood Historical Society to be displayed at Belmar Park.

WERE YOU A RALSTON #12 STUDENT? DO YOU HAVE PICTURES OF THE BUILDING OR YOUR CLASS PICTURE? DID A RELATIVE LEAVE YOU A DIARY? DID SOMEONE TELL YOU ABOUT THIS SCHOOL? WE WOULD APPRECIATE ANY INFORMATION THAT YOU MIGHT HAVE. If you can help, please call Jack Davidson, 986-0217, or the Belmar Museum, 987-7850.

MEMORIAL FUND

The Memorial Fund was established recently by the Board of Directors. The money in this fund will be used for very special projects and the interest will be used to fund the general activities of the Society. Because the fund will live and grow, it is hoped that donations can be made to this fund in memory of Arvada citizens who live on in the work that we do.

The fund now has $215 with two contributors so far. We will update the Memorial Fund in each issue of The Historian.

A PART OF ARVADA'S HERITAGE COMES TO AN END - By Marcetta Lutz

The celebration for the August closing of East Arvada Junior High School (formerly Arvada High School, 1920-1954 and Arvada Junior High School, 1954-1971) at 7225 Ralston Road was held on July 28 from 1 to 4 p.m. The afternoon was a complete success with some 500 former students, teachers, and superintendents returning to the building for the last time before the building is sold.

The affair was sponsored by Dr. John Peper, Superintendent of Jefferson County Schools; Mr. Bob Ferris, Jefferson County North Area Superintendent; and Deane Darnell, Principal of East Arvada Junior High who was the Celebration Chairman.

The Arvada Historical Society was asked to put on an exhibit for the years the building was used as a high school. An enthusiastic group of people worked diligently together and developed a well-organized display. Those on the committee were: Max Haug, Memory Guard, Sherry Smith, Edna McCormack, Erna Reye Kirk, Rex Lowell, Ann Storm, Mildred Graves, Thelma Rossman, Betty Stockdale, Dorothy Galloway, Dorothy Fields, Billie Barton, Lois Lindstrom, Kathy Culligan and Bill White.

People in the community who donated or loaned items for the exhibit were: Ruth Crossen, Leota Caldwell, Ruth Weber, Ethel Culverwell, Bessie Kinkel, Doris Bullock, Mildred Malcolm, George Bethel, Lloyd Gorrell, Ruth Selle, Marie Meininger, Evelyn Kramer, Mary E. Stackhouse, Gerrie Lyons, Al Barker, Edna and Lester Witt, Lily Schultz, Eva Connerly, Berty Wilson, Margaret Alexander, Zella Salwasser, Laura Jean Bundren, Fern Stott, Vera Hocking, Bessie Browne Dawson, and Eunice Rowe.

A great deal of credit goes to the combined efforts of all of these people who made this exhibit so complete and enjoyable. It was as if each wanted to pay a farewell tribute to this building which held so many fond and wonderful memories.

It has been a great pleasure to work with such an interested and dedicated group of people, and I want to thank each one for making this "Celebration of Excellence in Education" an overwhelming success.

IN MEMORIAM

WALLACE A LINDSTROM

Wallace A. Lindstrom was born May 26, 1910, in Leonardville, Kansas. His father was born in Sweden and married Edna Medora Hanson. They raised their twelve children on a farm in this Swedish community. Wallace attended Leonardville High School and played on the football team. He attended the Kansas City College of Commerce for two years before volunteering for the Army Air Transport Command in 1942. He flew as radio operator for the ATC for four years during World War II.

June 22, 1947 he married Lois Cunniff of Trinidad, Colorado, and they lived in Pueblo, Colorado, where Wallace was a salesman with Mutual of New York Insurance. In January, 1955, he became the first Field Representative for the Colorado Education Association, Division of Insurance, and traveled the entire state of Colorado. The Lindstroms moved to Arvada in January, 1960, and in September of that year, their daughter, Linnea Eileen, was born.

Wallace retired in 1970 and built a new family home. He continued church and youth activities at the Arvada Presbyterian Church, but increasingly devoted his time to the Arvada Historical Society. He was part of the original Board, serving as a Director 1972-81, and was President of the organization 1977-78. He planned the first Tri-High Song Festival, the first dedication of the Lewis Ralston Gold Site, organized the dinosaur dig, and the lowering and wood preservation of an historic barn. He was a member of the Arvada Cultural Center Committee 1973 which insured the birth of the Arvada Center for the Arts and Humanities. He secured donations of items for the Museum at the Center and arranged for their restoration.

In 1978, Wallace became the volunteer contractor and builder for the Arvada Flour Mill Restoration, serving as Manager and Tour Director of the restored Mill 1980-83. In 1981 he received an Image Award from the Arvada Chamber of Commerce.

Through his life Wallace worked with young people as Sunday school teacher, Fellowship Coordinator, and also coached Little League football. He participated in many community drives, both in Pueblo and Arvada.

Memorial services for Wallace A. Lindstrom were held Monday, July 30, 1984, 10:00 a.m. Arvada Presbyterian Church, 5592 Independence, Arvada, Colorado. Contributions may be sent to the Arvada Presbyterian Church, 5592 Independence Street, Arvada, CO 80004 or the Arvada Historical Society, PO Box 419 in Arvada, CO 80001.

He is survived by wife, Lois; daughter, Linnea; brother, Barrett Lindstrom of Thompson, Ohio; sister, Janice Lewis of Clay Center, Kansas; and many nieces and nephews.

The Historical Society will long remember his many hours of hard work. His life was active and filled with dedicated service and is an inspiration to all of us. We will miss him.
